

TEN KILLED WHEN TRAIN HITS CAR

Policeman Looking For Gate
Tender at Detroit—Two Carmen Are Held.

DETROIT, Oct. 2.—Ten persons were killed and 33 injured about midnight Sunday night, when a Grand Trunk switch engine pushing three freight cars, crashed into a crowded street car at Forest av. and Dequinder st. on the east side. Several of the injured, all of whom were taken to hospitals, were so seriously injured that they are not expected to recover. Eight of the dead were taken to the county morgue, while one died in a hospital and another on the way there. All of those killed were so badly mutilated that identification was impossible.

Car Hit in Center.
The street car was struck almost in the center, the impact knocking the car from the tracks and knocking it alongside the freight cars.

Panic-stricken passengers began jumping from both the front and rear doors and climbing through the windows. Most of the dead were killed by jumping from the car and falling under the wheels of the still moving freight cars.

Ambulances from every hospital in Detroit were rushed to the scene and quickly took the injured to the hospitals, where medical aid could be given. At midnight one hospital alone reported 15 injured and one dead had been taken there.

Third Within Year.
Sunday night's accident is the third of a similar nature here in the last year and the second to occur at the Forest av. crossing.

The railroad tracks at Dequinder street are used by the Grand Trunk and Detroit Terminal Railroad companies.

Little Girl Dies.
A little girl died while being taken to a hospital. At the same hospital one man was reported to be dying, while three others, unidentified, were unconscious and the extent of their injuries not determined.

Those probably fatally injured: Roman Naphsky, 20 years old, of Detroit, fractured skull.
Anthony Fronczak, 27, both legs amputated.

Those who were killed outright at the crossing were so badly mangled that identification there was impossible.

Making 20 Miles an Hour.
According to a member of the switching crew, the train was moving at about 20 miles an hour when it struck the street car.

Robert O'Keefe, conductor in charge of the switching crew and William Carter, and Alex Clishe, motorman and conductor, respectively, of the street car, were taken to police headquarters, where they were being questioned long after midnight. Newspapers were not permitted to see them.

The police are looking for the statement of the Dequinder street crossing, who it is said, disappeared immediately after the accident. None of the gates were damaged, indicating, it is claimed, that they were not down at the time of the crash.

An Austrian chemist claims to have invented a liquid coating for smoked meats that will keep them and preserves them indefinitely.

MRS. MAY'S LETTER TO WOMEN

More Proof that Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
Relieves Suffering.

Chicago, Ill.—"I suffered from a bad case of female ill. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended and I took about six bottles. It fixed me up all right. The common symptoms of such a condition—pain when walking, irritability, a ringing down pain and backache, nervousness and dis-ordered digestion—soon passed away. I look much better now than I did before, and I recommended the Compound every time for female troubles. As it did for me all it is claimed to do. You have my permission to publish this letter." Mrs. J. May, 2545 S. Lincoln St., Chicago, Ill.

If you have any of the symptoms mentioned in Mrs. May's letter, remember what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for her, and try it yourself. It is a good old-fashioned medicine, made from roots and herbs, and it has helped countless numbers of women.

If you need special advice, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.—Advt.

Wilson Congratulated On Speech At Shadow Lawn

Decides to Follow Same Line in Future Talks From Porch of Summer
Home.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Oct. 2.—So many messages congratulating Pres't Wilson on his speech here Saturday were received by him Sunday that he has decided to follow the same general line in future addresses at Shadow Lawn. His speeches in Omaha, Indianapolis, Chicago and New York which will be before non-partisan organizations will be less political in tone.

Arrangements were completed Sunday for the president's trip to Omaha, beginning Tuesday. He will arrive in Omaha, Thursday morning at 11:40 and will remain there until 10 o'clock that night, returning to Long Branch, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Saturday afternoon he will address an assemblage of independents here.

Henry Ford of Detroit, who recently came out in support of Mr. Wilson for another term, has been invited to visit the president here and will lunch with him Monday. Prospects for peace in Europe are expected to be discussed.

Pres't Wilson received a number of telegrams bearing on his message to Jeremiah O'Leary, president of the American Truth society, telling him he wanted no "disloyal" Americans to vote for him. Most of the telegrams praised the president for his stand, but a few criticized him.

Statements made by a brother of Mr. O'Leary that suits should be brought against the president for libel were received lightly by administration officials. No comment was made except that Pres't Wilson handled the telegram to Mr. O'Leary and stands back of the message.

Pres't Ripley Appeals to Stockholders to Help Get Remedial Legislation.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Edward P. Ripley, president of the Atchafalaya & Santa Fe railroad, sent Sunday to the stockholders of the company an appeal to them to work for the passage of remedial legislation to meet the situation created by the passage by congress of the eight hour law at the request of the four railway brotherhoods.

"Since the precedent of abandoning arbitration and hurriedly paying the demands of railroad unions by special congressional enactment has been established," he says in his communication, "does it not behoove you to exercise your influence in favor of appropriate remedial legislation?"

"This company believes that the act which congress has passed is unconstitutional and that steps should be taken to resist it in every lawful manner."

After reviewing the negotiations at Washington leading up to the passage of the eight hour law, Mr. Ripley calls attention to the fact that the president recommended that congress explicitly approve of consideration by the interstate commerce commission of an increase in freight rates to meet the wage increase strikes resulting and also prohibit strikes until after an investigation. The brotherhoods he said have made it clear they will resist such legislation. It appears, he says, that "until some remedial legislation shall be adopted, the only way to avert tie-ups is for congress to grant by special legislation whatever demands labor may insist upon as their price for permitting the people to continue to enjoy railway transportation."

THEATERS

AT THE ORPHEUM.

Peppie's All Girl Revue, with a little bit of everything, is presented in nice shape at the Orpheum. The bill is a conglomeration of vaudeville acts with lots of good looking girls, the latest stuff in the way of songs and enough comedy to furnish an hour and thirty minutes of good laughs and amusement. Different from a lot of musical shows that are seen at the more popular prices every girl in the chorus can sing.

Among the musical numbers in the show are "Pretty Baby," "Yake Hula Hickey Dula," an Hawaiian song, "There's a Broken Heart for Every Light on Broadway," and "Jiggle Feet," that sung by Doyle and Elaine, two very good dancers. They are able to present the song in such good shape that they give their audience's jiggly feet.

A travesty on "Uncle Tom's Cabin," called "Eva's Birthday Party," opens the bill. The characters use many of the lines of the famous old play and present a lively little act during which a number of song and dance specialties are introduced. Four girls swing far out over the heads of the audience as a specialty.

Following the opener, "Carita," and the chorus appear in an interpretative dance number, "The Dance of the Seasons." Doyle and Elaine put lots of pep in their act and it makes a big hit. Kate Watson, who is always good, repeats again with "The Hoosier Girl." Her number is just one laugh after another.

A scene in a roof garden concludes the program. Alice Dudley who appeared in last year's revue as a colored character comedienne, shows her versatility, doing both Irish and Yiddish impersonations. Louise Elliott, who is exceptionally good in male impersonations, sings "There's a Broken Heart for Every Light on Broadway," assisted by Misses Marshall, Dolby and Dudley. Cecil Engel put over an Italian song well.

THE CHARMING WIDOWS.
The 1916-17 edition of the burlesque "The Charming Widows" will come to the Orpheum theater on Friday. New scenery and costumes, novel electrical effects and special equipment will be brought. The entertainment will be presented in two acts and eight scenes and throughout new singing and dancing numbers, vaudeville specialties and special attractions will be introduced at frequent intervals. At the head of the company will be found Eddie Dale and Jimmie Cooper.

The supporting company includes Sam Carlton, Hebrew comedian; Connie Fuller, Babe Ray, Ada Lum, Harry Peterson, Herbert Siani and Helen Stanley, the latter being known as the "doll girl." The show will open with a musical skit called "A Busy Day at the Bon Marche," and the scene shows the interior of a department store at San Francisco. Izzy Samples sells the rapidly failing business to Herman Klutz and many funny situations arise. In the second act Izzy and Klutz are seen as rival hotel keepers in Switzerland and engage in a scrap every time they meet. During the action of the show, the interesting specialties will be offered by Cooper and Carlton, Dale and Lum, Kyra and her six Hawaiian girls, Siani, the wandering violinist and many others. A special feature will be Kyra and a corps de ballet in classic dances.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.
The famous tenderloin station on West Thirteenth street, New York, is one of the many interesting realistic scenes to be seen in the new Fox production "The Soul of Broadway" starring the celebrated Valeska Suratt, the vaudeville and dramatic star.

The exterior of this famous police station and the interior, with the sergeant's desk and all the grim paraphernalia of the place have all been photographed, with vivid life and action. The scene pictured is one where William Shay is arrested charged with the shooting of Miss Sure. He is shown being searched by real policemen, giving his "pedigree" to a real sergeant and being searched for concealed weapons. Then the camera is turned on a tier of cells and Mr. Shay is shown in the act of being thrust into captivity.

Another scene is the gambling house of the masked woman, the decorations being on a scale befitting the supposed magnificence of the most fashionable resort of its kind in the great city. An acre of space is covered by the tessellated floor upon which are set the roulette, baccarat tables. In addition to the Suratt picture two single reel comedies "The Honeymoon Car" and "Canimated Nooz" and a scenic picture will be shown. Tomorrow William Desmond and Enid Markey will be seen in "Lieutenant Danny, U. S. A.," a powerful tale of love and adventure, and "The Waiters' Ball" a two reel comedy with "Fatty" Arbuckle will also be on the bill.

AT THE LASALLE.
A Paramount feature will be shown at the Lasalle today starring Lou Tellegen, dramatic artist in "The Victory of Conscience." It is a play with a strong moral lesson dealing with the re-awakening of spiritual intuition in the heart of a sinner. Cleo Ridgley, who will be remembered for her performances in "The Golden Chance," "The Scandalous Woman" and other Lasky productions plays opposite Mr. Tellegen in the role of a Parisian dancer. Others prominent in the cast are Elliott Dexter, Thomas Delmar and Laura Woods Cushing.

Fannie Ward, another star of the Lasky organization will return to the screen in a new and interesting drama entitled "Each Pearl a Tear."

AT THE COLONIAL.
Today's feature at the Colonial is a melodrama in five parts

In "THE SOUL OF BROADWAY" VALESKA SURATT wears 150 Gowns, changing her garments with every forty feet of film.

An old military production entitled "Captain Swift," which was played several seasons ago on the dramatic stage has been filmed and will be shown at the Colonial on Tuesday. It is a particularly timely subject in view of the great European conflict and although very patriotic in its nature, none of the undesirable scenes of strife and war are shown in the production.

BOARD WILL SETTLE DISPUTE OVER GUN
Army Officers and Civilian Experts to Pass on Merits of Col.
Lewis' Invention.

International News Service:
WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—A board of army officers and civilian experts, headed by Col. Francis H. French of the general staff, today began an inquiry which, among other things, is expected to settle the merits of the controversy long waged between Brig. Gen. Crozier, chief of ordnance, and Col. Isaac N. Lewis, retired, over the merits of the Lewis machine gun.

The board was appointed by Sec'y Baker to consider the character and number of machine guns to be supplied for the needs of the army. This gives them broad enough powers to determine the merits of the Crozier-Lewis controversy. Col. Lewis claims that he offered to the war department free the use of his invention, that the offer was turned down and that subsequently he sold his patent to Great Britain with the result that the gun is now in use by the British in their operations in France.

RECRUITS COME HIGH
Only 372 Men Obtained From a
$25,000 Expenditure.

International News Service:
WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Reports made public today at the war department show that it cost $25,000 last month to recruit 372 men in New York for the national guard in the federal service. This startling expenditure has convinced army officers here that the government will be forced to devise a means whereby recruiting can be accomplished for less money. Not only is the number of recruits obtained in New York small in proportion to the amount of money expended but it is expected that other states will show similarly small totals of accepted men. During one week in New York only 46 recruits were obtained and during another similar period only 65 soldiers were added to the roster in the entire state.
